GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The Grand opera house was crowded last evening, for although the temperature was hot outside of the house, inside the auditorium was cool and comfortable.

The Kilanyi troupe has scored a tremendous and most deserved success. The majority of these "living pictures" are reproductions of celebrated artists, both painters and sculptors, and the reality with which they are depicted is truly marvelous.

The great Elliott family are seen to good advantage in three different parts of the great unicycle carnival, the bicycle tournament and in their great musical act.

If the Elliotts in their great multiplicity of instruments played only commonplace music their achievement would be quite remarkable, but they also admirably perform difficult selections from the works of the world's greatest masters, which are delightfully given.

Senorita Eloina does a very graceful act on the trapeze. She is young and attractive, with splendid form and costumes.

There will be a matinee to-morrow, and the evening performance closes the engagement of one of the best companies that will visit us this season. The new illuminated sign attracted much attention last night.

Peter Dalley will present his new play, "The Night Clerk," at the Hyperion on Wednesday evening next.

"The Green Goods Man" will be at the Grand opera house for one night only, Thursday, September 5.

There are one hundred people with Tompkins' "Black Crook," which opens an engagement at the Grand opera house next Monday afternoon. All the gorgeous scenery and costumes that were used in the great run at New York and at the Boston theater will be brought here intact, and a tremendous week's business is looked for. There will be a special holiday matinee on Monday, Labor day, and the regular matinee Wednesday. The engagement is for three nights and two matinees.

POLI'S WONDERLAND THEATRE.

Sadi Alfarabi's marvelous exhibition of balancing and manipulation is a great act. It is more than certain that Alfarabi will not again be seen in New Haven, as he returns soon to St. Petersburg in order that he may entertain the czar. Professor Macart's dog and monkey comedians may not again be seen here either, as there is such a constant demand for their services that it is almost impossible to secure a return date. The specialty olio given is also excellent.

The marvelous Rossow midgets come next week. They have proved greater favorites in New York than in America. They spent ten months at the chief attraction at Koster & Bial's famous theater, where Carmenita made her American debut, and they have entertained in private houses much more than the Spanish dancer. The Rossows' engagement at the Wonderland marks their only appearance in New Haven.

HUBBARD FAMILY PICNIC.

Very Enjoyable Affair That Took Place at Woodmont.

One of the pleasantest affairs of the summer was the picnic of the Hubbard family and their relatives, held in Hubbard grove at Woodmont, Wednesday. A large delegation left Meriden on the 7:15 train for New Haven, thence by electric cars to the picnic grounds, situated in a pleasant grove near Anderson avenue.

Many occupied the morning in strolling about the shore and visiting the cottages, while a party of cousins visited the old Hubbard homestead, about half a mile distant. It is a typical farm house of colonial style, 150 years old. It was formerly the residence of John Hubbard, but is now occupied by his son, Eugene Hubbard.

Shortly after noon, dinner having been prepared, the cousins were summoned at the tap of the drum, and they did full justice to the repast which had been tastefully arranged.

After dinner a program consisting of an address by Hon. Harlan Page Hubbard of New York, publisher of "One Thousand Years of Hubbard History"; recitation, "Aunt Peggy and High Art," Miss May Merriman of Meriden; speeches by Representative Wyllis Upson of Kensington and Joel Hough of Wallingford, and remarks by Dana Cooper of Hamden, and Mr. Garlick of Woodmont.

A vote of thanks was extended to those who had provided the accommodations at the grove, after which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Secretary and treasurer—Miss Ellen R. Hough of Meriden; committee of arrangements, Mr. and Mrs. Erastus Hubbard, Tracy; H. S. Wilcox and Mrs. E. I. Merriman, Meriden, and Dana Cooper, Hamden.

After dinner some enjoyed the many pleasant drives about the place, and the large mosquitoes, many of which weigh a pound, while others accepted the hospitable invitation of Rev. Dr. Anderson and took a plunge in the briny deep.

Each one present was requested to register, and among the places represented were New Haven, Wallingford, Meriden, Woodmont, Kensington, Berlin, Tracy, West Haven, New York, Mt. Carmel, Hamden, Waterbury and Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The new parochial school of Sacred Heart parish, this city, will be blessed by Bishop Tierney next Sunday and the dedication sermon will be preached by Vicar-General Mulcahy. Father Shanley will be master of ceremonies. There will be about thirty priests present. Rev. Mother Bernard of Mt. St. Joseph's, Hartford, will be at the head of the school and she will be assisted by fifteen sisters as teachers. Among the teachers are Sister Rosario of New Britain, president of the Nuns' summer school at Putnam; Sister Aloisius of St. Francis' school, Fair Haven, who will teach No. 11; Sister Terrecita from the cathedral school of Hartford and Sister Lonita, who will teach music.

SACRED HEART CHURCH.

They have had a very successful season, having been associated with Mr. F. E. Bristol and Tom Karl in professional work. Mr. Parsons resumes teaching in New Haven at the conservatory on September 16, and in New York on September 23.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hirsch of Savin Rock are enjoying a two weeks' trip to Santiago, Catalina mountains, Montreal and Niagara Falls. They report a splendid time. Their amiable daughter, Miss Arline, remained at home to entertain their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Silsdorf, Mrs. Kuppenheimer, Miss Rosa Hirsch, Miss Emily Leichter, and Miss Bella Silsdorf, all of New York, who are visiting at Mr. Hirsch's cottage.
